

Emergency Management

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

MIT Campus Emergency Response Team (CERT)

Andrea Finnin, CERT Program Manager

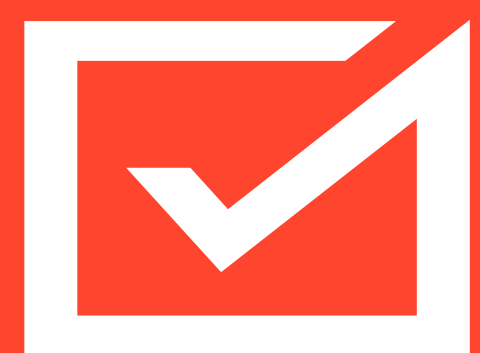

WHAT IS MIT CERT?

MIT's Campus Emergency Response Teams (MIT CERT) is comprised of trained volunteers from across campus who want to be better prepared for hazards and emergencies that may threaten our community.

MIT CERT EMERGENCY RESPONSE

- Protect family and personal safety first
- When activated, respond to on-campus emergencies and to support large campus events
- Assist emergency response personnel when requested

MIT CERT TRAINING

Over the course of 20 hours of FEMA-based training MIT CERT learns :

- Disaster Preparedness
- Fire Safety
- Disaster Medical Operations and First Aid
- Light Search and Rescue
- Disaster Psychology
- ... And More!

INTERESTED IN MIT CERT?

Email Andrea Finnin at andrea@mit.edu to register for the next MIT CERT training session

For more information about MIT
Emergency Management

@MITPREPARED @MITALERT

/MITPREPARED /MITALERT

SOCIAL MEDIA

VISIT US

WEB.MIT.EDU/EMBC
EMERGENCY.MIT.EDU

